WE NOMINATE

George Rea Cook 3d, 51-year old president of the 120-year old Princeton Bank and Trust Company, whose second report as chief executive of one of New Jersey's most venerable banks accentuated not only the continued development of a community institution but also the unabated growth of the entire Princeton economy. In presenting his analysis of his bank's operations for 1954, and its plans for 1955, Cook this week chronicled a year of solid achievement and succeeded in compressing into one sentence a philosophy of banking which bodes well for Princeton's future: "We do not go in for 'spectaculars,' but are content in the knowledge that constantly changing techniques are a fundamental principle of stability."

Under Cook's leadership the Bank and Trust, classified by the Federal Reserve System among its so-called "Country Banks," has climbed steadily upwards until it is now a 50-million dollar financial institution, with resources of nearly $20,000,000 in its Banking Division and Trust Division assets of more than $30,000,00. Indicative of its unprecedented expansion in 1954 were a 14 2 per cent increase in total deposits, from $16,046,928 to $18,324,912, and a year-end total of $4,431,331 in loans and mortgages, an amazing 32% above the close of 1953. Cook could also point out that in seven short months the Bank's Shopping Center Branch opened 1,191 new accounts and handled some $12,000,000 in transactions.

A lifelong resident of the Princeton Area and a High Honors graduate of Princeton University, who gained his initial experience in a Philadelphia-headquartered investment banking concern, Cook has been associated with the Bank and Trust since he "signed on" in 1933 as a trainee in the bookkeeping department. Over the years, while lending a hand with such pioneering projects as the Public Relations School of the N. J. Bankers Association, he held forth in turn as Assistant Secretary, Vice-President and Executive Vice-President and two years ago this month was elevated to the presidency. Cook in the same period completed three years of distinguished wartime duty in the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations and made time for key roles in Princeton civic affairs.

Retiring this week as president of the Nassau Club of Princeton, Cook has long been identified with Princeton Hospital, first as a trustee and more recently as a member of its Finance Committee. He was a driving force in the organization of the Princeton Community Chest and some years back was a member of the three-man "Mason and Dixon Commission" which re-drew the boundary-line between Princeton and Lawrence Townships. His close affiliation with the University's National Alumni Association have included the presidency of the Class of 1926 (a five-year term expiring in 1956), a decade on the Graduate Council and the chairmanship of the Reunion Chairmen's Association.

For humanizing and breathing understanding into the "cold science of banking;" for accepting the challenge of maintaining "the high standards of quality demanded of us"; for constantly working for the enduring growth of the community he loves and serves so well; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for More Daylight Saving?

The states of New Jersey and New York are considering following the lead of several New England States in extending Daylight Saving through the end of October. Because of the heavy flow of business between this State and New York, mutual action is considered essential to make the time switch convenient.

It is pointed out that warm weather in the early fall weeks would make extension of daylight time a pleasure for many and that in addition, sunshine during the afternoon rush hour for another month might decrease traffic accidents, many of which occur at dusk. Early risers, however, might well prefer to see an extra hour of daylight in April rather than October; the sun tops the horizon an hour and a-half earlier in late April than it does toward the end of October.

Topics of the Town

Cosmopolitan Note. For the past half century or more, Princeton's varied educational and cultural features have attracted peoples of other lands. Many of them come on a temporary basis to visit or to pursue their studies; a number of them linger to become permanent residents.

Nowhere in town is this characteristic as clearly defined as by today's residents of 47 University Place. That college-owned apartment building currently houses natives of France, China, Japan, Finland, the British Isles (Jamaica) and the U. S. A.

Goal Topped. Princeton Hospital announced this week that it had succeeded in reaching its goal of nearly $2,000,000 in its six-year old building fund campaign. The figure of $1,924,862 now at hand is far and away the largest ever raised in a community undertaking here.

While $386,000 in Federal grants-in-aid form a substantial portion of the sum, the great majority of it was contributed by 6,065 individuals, families, service organizations, institutions and business. The drive was launched by the late Curtis W. McGraw, for many years president of the hospital's board of trustees, and continued after his death in 1953 by Norvell B. Samuels.

Two sizeable gifts have helped carry the drive to a successful conclusion, Dr. John H. Wallace, Jr., current board president, revealed this week. An unnamed amount has been received from Mrs. Elizabeth McGraw Stoltzfus in memory of her father, credited by Dr. Wallace with "being primarily responsible for the hospital's enlargement and development."

The Hospital Aid Committee has pledged an additional $35,000 to the building fund, a sum to be incorporated with the gift from Mrs. Stoltzfus, in the McGraw Memorial Laboratories. Between 1918 and 1953, the Hospital Aid Committee gave more than $150,000 to the hospital and in the latter year assumed responsibility for financing and operating the Hospital Aid Shop.

Bus Problem Solved. The Merchants Association of the Princeton Shopping Center announced this week that it had withdrawn plans for the controversial free bus service, which had been proposed to tour residential areas in the township to take passengers to the center. At the same time, the association reported completion of arrangements with the Trenton Transit Co. to place its run to the center on an hourly basis six days a week.

Beginning Monday, buses will follow their normal route from Trenton down Nassau Street, turning into North Harrison to reach the Shopping Center. They will leave there every hour on the hour from 9 to 6, except Thursdays when the service will continue until 9 p. m. and Fridays, when the last bus will leave at 10 p. m.

A series of meetings had been held in both the borough and the township to determine whether free service might be provided throughout various sections of both municipalities. The borough had rejected the application but the township committee approved it, with a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission pending until this week's announcement. Objections from township residents on the proposed routes were a factor in reaching the decision to use Trenton Transit, the Merchants Association said.

Y Campaign Starts Well. A report meeting after four days of active solicitation shows that Princeton residents have contributed $125,369 in three-year pledges to the campaign to raise $750,000 for a new YMCA-YWCA building.

Some $105,000 of the pledges already collected by the special gifts committee were announced at the opening session, while the team organization reported $20,396. The second meeting is scheduled for this Thursday at 8 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Hear All About It!

Princetonians who have questions about the proposed $750,000 YM-YWCA building may now get the answer straight from the horse's mouth. Each Saturday, beginning this weekend, the campaign committee will present a "talking horse" for all to query at the entrance to Palmer Square.

The horse (a guaranteed five model furnished by the Princeton Riding Club) will be on hand Saturday morning from 10:30 to 12:30 and again from 2 to 4. It will answer all questions about the current "Y" drive—but does not promise to forecast accurately the results of the fifth race at Hialeah.

The standings at the first meeting showed the section headed by Leonard Newton at the top with $9,065. Following were hte sectioss headed by Deles Schoch ($6,081) and David Lloyd ($5,223).

Division leadership was also topped by Mr. Newton, with Charles Hurford, Mrs. W. R. Babcock, Mrs. Jess Epstein and Jack White divisions following. John Grippers' team with $1,175 leads those captained by George P. Holmes, Mrs. Isabelle Rhodes, Simeon F. Moss, Mrs. Oscar Sussman, Thomas F. Huntington, Mrs. William R. Brearley, Dwight O. North, Thomas R. Rogers and John S. Mount among the top ten of 75 teams.

The leading 12 workers were headed by George A. Graham, who reported $850 in gifts to the new structure. Following were Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., Dwight W. Edwards, Mrs. Edward Jurji, Mr. Newton, Warner C. Duster, Henry B. Martin, Ernest F Johnson, Mrs. Walter Beers, Mrs. Rhodes, Gordon M. Lees and Bertram A. Trevor.

Vehicle Agency Change. Foster D. Jemison resigned as Motor Vehicle Agent this week after seven years in the post. With Governor Meyner's plan for licensing and registering by mail sidelined for the moment, the Democrats have moved to exercise their patronage privileges.

Said to be in line for appointment as Mr. Jemison's successor is Maurice P. Coffee of Prince Chevrolet, Inc. A resident of Trenton, Mr. Coffee taught physical education and industrial arts in the Township school system for 17 years before recently entering the automotive field.

Nergaard a Westinghouse Finalist. Among the 40 finalists named in the 14th annual Westinghouse Science Talent Search is 18-year old David K. Nergaard, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leon S. Nergaard of 11 Rollingmead.

More than 16,000 high school students in all 48 states and the District of Columbia entered the competion, which earns the fin-

It's New to Us

Small Rose. Some day when your closet looks depressingly sweedy, drive out to the Shopping Center to Rosette Pennington and thumb through the racks that hold the cool, bright linens, cottons and summer silks. Prices here begin at $15, and one of the most memorable dresses we saw at the shop fell into that price group. It's rayon linen with empire waist in a light raspberry, black, or purple, a splendid basic dress, even in a bright color.

Liberty of London fine cotton prints ($35) include a minute all-over pattern that looks like a child's dress, with small white lace-edged collar and prim little cuffs at the short sleeves. In green or delft blue and white print and you have to be about 16 to wear it.

In the group of Nantucket naturals we liked a silk shantung shirtwaist with pleats hanging from shoulder to hem, front and back, belted. Colors are lacquer red, natural, turquoise and a couple of prints.

Two unusual cottons in this summery collection: a white pique with powder (pink or aqua) blue stripes and solid color shoulder straps three inches wide, and a colored belt at the gathered waistline. The other is a golfer that's genuinely sleeveless: scooped to a deep U both front and back, for a really good tan. It's cut like a sheath with embroidered golf clubs on its left shoulder.

The designer racks at Rosette Pennington hold dresses and suits by Harvey Barron, Oleg Cassini, Larry Aldrich, Adele Simpson, Christian Dior, Ciel Chapman and Tina Leser. For about $70 you may have one of the silk tweed spring suits in their soft spring greys or oatmeal shades, designed by Larry Aldrich. One is a straight-cut dress with jacket, another is a suit whose blouse matches the lining, one has a severe middy blouse in navy blue.

Cocktail dresses start at $60, or so, and they come in all kinds. A Spanish-looking one in navy silk has black silk bell fringe and jet beads trimming its deep collar. There's a fragile shell-pink silk; a silk chiffon; many with empire waists; many with a low hipline, many with natural waistline.

Rosette Pennington reminds us to remind you that the shop will order any dress you like that isn't in stock, provided it's a current model.

Hay Foot? Straw Foot? Many's the bicyclist who has turned carelessly in front of our car without so much as a wink for a signal. For the benefit of these short-lived souls, we announce the arrival of a bike direction-signal set.

Install it on your bike and it will flash a signal light for right or left when you turn the switch. It can be seen, the light can, from front, rear or both sides and what other direction is there? The price is $5.95 at Tiger Auto, 26 Witherspoon.

Brighten, not only the corner where you are, but also the road 25 feet away. Do-All, a new lantern, has a business-like red light that flashes a warning, if you're on a dark road changing a tire.

An extension beam light, smaller and white, shines at the end of a 25-foot extension. You may operate both lights at the same time, or each one separately, and the red one will blink or not, just as you choose. For $6.95.

Back to bikes for a minute—here's a plastic ornament that looks like a red and white plastic corkscrew. It's long enough to wind around both handlebars and the frame of a bike with simply devastating effect.

A thinner strip will wind around spokes, and with this stuff, you will HAVE to have direction signals, or people will think you're traveling in all directions at once. The thin strip is 39c, the larger one is 49c.

Black and Decker have emerged from the company workshop with a tool kit ($39.95) containing not only the usual electric drill, but a stand to put it on and make Education. The meeting will be held in the Valley Road School Tuesday evening at 8.

The four candidates who will answer questions are Dr. J. Donald Butler and Mrs. Paul S. Smith, incumbents; John W. Landis, research physicist; and John K. White, civil engineer. Mrs. David H. Jones, officer emeritus of the Township PTA, will serve as moderator.

Each candidate will be asked to speak briefly on these questions: "How do you feel in general about the recent steps taken by the Board of Education?" "What particular actions do you favor or oppose?" and "What future steps do you foresee as necessary or desirable?" Following the replies the meeting will be opened to questions from the floor.

Scouts Plan Rally. The Stony Brook District of the Boy Scouts of America will hold its 1955 rally Friday night in Princeton University's Dillon Gym. Some 400 Boy Scouts and Explorers are expected to attend from Princeton, Hightstown, Hopewell, Allentown, Cranbury, Pennington, Kingston, Blawenburg and Titusville.

The principal feature of the program will be competition among the patrols of the district in knot-tying, trail signs, signalling and first aid. The Scouts will be called upon to display both teamwork and individual skills under the supervision of the Explorer Scouts, who will serve as officials. Points will be awarded for first, second and third places in each event with the winning troop awarded the District Rally Cup for amassing the greatest number of points.

Besides the patrol competitions, there will be a tug of war and the rally will close with the customary song fest. The meeting will be conducted under the guidance of the District Rally Committee, whose members are Russell Holcombe of Levittown; Arthur Jensen and Harvey Hook of Princeton; Ralph Sherwood of Mercerville; George Neighbor, Alva Perrine and John Orr of Hightstown; and Charles Erb of Hopewell.

Seminary Will Inaugurate Two. The Board of Trustees of Princeton Theological Seminary will inaugurate two professors, the Rev. Elmer G. Homrighausen, Th.D., D. D., as Charles R. Erdman Professor of Pastoral Theology, and D. Campbell Wyckoff, Ph.D, as Thomas W. Synnott Professor of Christian Education, at a special meeting Tuesday. The ceremony will be held in Miller Chapel of Theological Seminary at 3:30 p.m.

Dr. Peter K. Emmons, president of the Board of Trustees, will preside at the service. A former student of Dr. Erdman and a fellow board member of the late Mr. Synott, Dr. Emmons will also give the charge to the professors.

A new Communion Table will be dedicated in the course of the inaugural service. This table is the gift of Mrs. Lewis S. Mudge of Bryn Mawr, Pa., in memory of her husband, who was for many years a trustee of the seminary and the Clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

The dedication prayer will be offered by the Rev. Eugene C. Blake, successor to Dr. Mudge in the office of the General Assembly. Also during the service a Celtic Cross, the gift of Mrs. Charles D. Reimers of Fort Worth, Tex., will be accepted in the name of the seminary.

Service Bureau Increases Aid. The Social Service Bureau has announced an increase in the number of families helped during 1954 as it completed another year of service. The Bureau reported that its services have been more freely used, especially by those who were new to the agency.

Educational stories in popular magazines were cited by the Bureau, a Community Chest Agency, as a reason for some of the new clients. Referrals from friends, doctors and ministers accounted for another large part of the increase. The area from which clients were drawn included Princeton and nearby communities where no agency existed.

The Social Service Bureau works primarily through its Visiting Nurses, Mrs. Jean Tuesday, Mrs. Miriam Tidey and Miss Ella Johnston; its Family Service Agency, staffed by Mrs. Mabel M. Reeves and Mrs. Ruth Bowers; and its Family Service Guidance Center, operated under Dr. J. Kendall Wallis, psychiatrist and director, Irving Alexander and Charles Slack of Princeton University. Mrs. Eileen Berrymen and Mrs. Mary Bigelow, psychologists, serve as staff for the Guidance Center.

The Bureau announced the election of three new board members and the election of officers at its annual meeting last week. The new directors elected for three year terms are Mrs. William K. Evans, Mrs. Harry O. Hart and Mrs. DeWitt Jones. Mrs. Maurice Healy, Jr. was re-elected to serve for another three-year term.

Officers of the Bureau who were re-elected for the coming year are Gordon D. Griffin, president; Miss Sarah P. Scott, vice-president; and Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., secretary. The new treasurer is Thomas F. Huntington. Those continuing on the board with unexpired terms are Mrs. J. Douglas Brown, Mrs. Richard Lindabury, Mrs. Daniel Pierce, Mrs. John Tukey, Richard W. The Governor Is Amused

Governor Meyner has apparently adopted a paragraph with a Princeton angle as his way of telling audiences that he likes to talk at length.

The state's chief executive warned the YM-YW campaign launching dinner and his press conferences last week of his speaking habits by quoting a paragraph from "The New York Times:"

"PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 16—Princeton's campaign to raise $750,000 for a new joint YMCA-YWCA building will be launched tomorrow evening by a dinner speech by Governor Robert B. Meyner. It will last one month."

Bettes Heads Nurserymen. Russell M. Bettes, president of the New Jersey Association of Nurserymen, will preside at a two-day meeting of the association to be held this Thursday and Friday at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall in Atlantic City. Mr. Bettes is president of Rosedale Garden Market and Piedmont Landscape Co., Inc. of this community.

Also attending the convention are William F. Flemer, Jr. and William F. Flemer, III, president and vice-president of Princeton Nurseries, Inc. The latter is a director of the association and a member of the convention committee. William Howe, president of Howe Nurseries of Pennington, will be a panelist at the convention.

Drivers Fined. Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro fined these Princeton area residents on Tuesdays: Dennis Flanagan, 54 Herrontown Circle, and John Voth, Kingston, driving an unregistered vehicle, $8 each; Mrs. Janice Horanyi, 35 Cedar Lane, making an improper U-turn, $5; Harold D. Hoisington, Jr., Carter Road, passing a red traffic signal, $5; George Sellers, 177 Library Place, and Bruce R. Miller, Quaker Road, passing "stop" signs, $4 each.

In Rocky Hill, Magistrate Ralph D. Mason imposed these fines: Henry P. Brauner, Franklin Park, $17; John Milchanoski, Belle Mead, $15; Felix Leiggi, Hopewell, $15; Victor Vegas, Rocky Hill, $15; and Joseph Kiss, R.D. 1, Princeton, $15, all for speeding; Augustin Martinez, Laurel Avenue, Kingston, $15, and Raymond J. Slovinsky, St. Josephs College, $10, both careless driving; Abram Slover, Belle Mead, passing a "stop" sign, $5.

Dr. Smith Honored. Dr. DeWitt H. Smith of Drakes Corner Road is one of the eight American medical authorities who have been invited by the Secretary of Foreign Affairs of the West German Republic to inspect and evaluate the progress that nation has made in the public health field in the past decade.

Music in Princeton

McCARTER THEATRE

A wise singer chooses varied material and arranges her program in an interesting manner. A versatile singer can present dromatically the contrasting styles of a wide range of material. An excellent singer can combine a balanced program and versatility with a rare voice, fine musician ship and crystal-clear diction. Such a singer is Marian Anderson, heard Monday night before standees at McCarter under sponsorship of the Friendship Club.

Miss Anderson presented a program divided into five sections. The first part consisted of songs by Italian composers: Durante, Scarlatti, Martini and Legrenzi; parts two and three were composed of German Lieder by Schubert and Brahms; the fourth part contained South American and Spanish songs by Guastarino, Granadas, Tavares and De Falla; Negro Spirituals arranged by Burleigh, Boatner, Brown and Johnson comprised the fifth part.

Exteremely generous in bestowing encores upon the audience, Miss Anderson sang a uniquely-phrased version of "Comin' Through the Rye" after the first intermission. The concluding encores were: "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands," which Miss Anderson performed on the Dote Line TV program a few weeks ago. (how moving was the subdued intensity with which she sang "He's Got the Little Babies in His Hands!"); the humorous "There's No Hidin' Place Down Here," and her world-famous rendition of "Ave Maria."

It is evident that the quality of Miss Anderson's voice is uneven as she glides from one register to another, but this imperfection is overwhelmed by her inimitable perfections. Her range and control of dynamics is impressively broad, having as many varied shades as the colors of a prism. This was evident in her performance of "Hear De Lom's A-Cryin' " and of Schubert's "Der Doppelganger," which opens with the same subject as Bach's Fugue in C sharp minor.

Her ability to sing wide leaps and yet maintain perfect intonation was clear in "Der Schmied" of Brahms. She performed this song so convincingly that one could almost hear the clashing and clanging of the blacksmith's forge.

Her production of lovely lyrical phrases was manifest in Schubert's "Standchen," Brahm's "Immer Leiser Wird Mein Schlummer" and Guastarino's "La Rosa Y El Sauce." The unique resonance of her sotto voce low tones emerged in a blossom of soft beauty in Martini's "Plaisir D' Amour." And her light, staccatto technique and fine enuniciation shone forth in Scarlatti's "Gia Il Sole Del Gange," Legrenzi's "Che Fiero Costume," Schubert's "Ungeduld" and "O What a Beautiful City."

The last number on the concert was "Roll Jerd-n Roll." The audience could nearly hear the Jerd'n rolling along through Miss Anderson's onomatopoetic treatment of the song. Miss Anderson could clearly hear the tumultous applause roll toward the stage. Princeton will long remember this recital, which belongs on the Honor Roll of memorable concerts.

Assured Brilliance. Pianist William Masselos immediately captivated his audience Tuesday night by playing Four Sonatas by Scarlatti with assurance and brilliance. He exhibited a delicate yet certain touch in his rendition of the E Minor and E Major Sonatas, and with a hushed intensity he drew music from Scarlatti's phrases. Mr. Masselos displayed virtuosity in his performance of the G Major Sonata; and the silver-staccatto piquancy of his version of the D Minor Sonata dazzled the ear.

The late Beethoven Sonata in A Flat Major, Opus 110. was performed with professional competence, although the tempo in the Allegro Molto movement was taken a trifle too slow, causing the sudden dynamic contrasts from forte to subito piano to be not quite as startling as they are intended. The performance of the Sonata progressed very well until the Fugato in the last movement, where Mr. Masselos fugato play the notes correctly.

He spared the audience the indignity of his having to improvise his way back into the piece by walking off stage, with the aplomb of a De Pachman, and returning with the music. All in all, the sonata was performed well—ma non troppo.

Le Gibet, a piece based on a repeated dominant ostinato, by Ravel, was rendered masterfully. Mr. Masselos has keen insight into

News of the Churches

Second "University" Session. "Faith and Love" is the subject of the second "University of Life" lecture to be given by Dr. Hans Hofmann on Wednesday at the Princeton Methodist Church. "What Does It Mean to Live by Faith?" is the general topic of this year's series.

The program will run from 6 to 8:30 p.m., beginning with a covered dish supper in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Chester Stroup and Paul Assenheimer have arranged a program of music, including group singing. Dr. Hofmann will begin his talk at 7:15 and will lecture for about 50 minutes. After the lecture there will be a question and discussion period.

Children in the primary group will gather with Mrs. Robert Shaw; juniors and intermediates with David Meekhof. The youngest children will have baby sitters provided by the church. The program is under the auspices of the Commission on Education, the Committee on University of Life, the Committee on Social Life and the Circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Church in Brazil. The Rev. James N. Wright, missionary from Bahia, Brazil, will speak on "The Christian Situation in Brazil" at the third "Mission Panorama" lecture to be held at the First Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. on Wednesday. A congregational supper at 6:15 will precede the lecture, and the program will conclude at 9. A special program for children aged 4 to 11 has been arranged for the evening.

The Rev. Mr. Right is Director of the Institute Ponte Nova, a Mission School in the state of Bahia, Brazil. Born in Brazil of Presbyterian missionary parents, he is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary. With his wife, who is also a graduate of the Seminary, he has been in his present charge since 1950. He is now spending a year's furlough doing graduate work at the Seminary.

Panel on Education. A panel discussion on "Our Children—Our Church's Future" has been planned for the forthcoming meeting of the Women's Guild of the Second Presbyterian Church. Members will gather in the Social Room Wednesday at 8 p.m. Dr. Charles G. Sellers, Superintendent of the Church School, will be moderator and the panel members will be Nicholas L. Carnevale, assistant superintendent of the Junior High Department of the Church School; Mrs. Roger H. McDonough, Dr. William E. Reaser and David S. York.

The Melodia Choir of the church will give a short musical program under the direction of David S. York, Minister of Music. Mrs. Oma G. Davis will conduct the worship service. Hostesses for the evening will be members of Circle 5 with Mrs. Gustave Eisenmann in charge.

Union Services. "The Fruit of the Holy Spirit" is the general theme of the 8 p.m. service this Sunday for the congregation of Princeton's three Presbyterian churches. The Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson will occupy his pulpit in the Witherspoon Church. His text will be drawn from Galatians 5:22, 23 and from Ephesians 5:9 and those attending the service are asked to bring Bibles. James Wiley of the First Presbyterian Church will sing "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Blind Ploughman" and Don Mason of the First Church will be at the organ.

Chapel Vespers for the three churches will be held from 5 to 5:30 p.m. on Sunday in the Chapel of the First Church. Dr. John R. Bodo will be in charge.

Methodist Women to Meet. "The Home Steward of the Christian Life" will be the theme of the regular meeting of the Princeton Methodist Women's Society for Christian Service next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the church social hall.

Mrs. Joel Nystrom will lead the general discussion and will show a film entitled "Preface to a Life." Mrs. Robert Shaw will describe the material being used in the church school as well as the pamphlets and books available to parents as aids in the guidance of youth.

In addition to the regular monthly meeting, a six-week study course on "Wealth and Christianity" is being planned under the leadership of Mrs. Chester McKinney. It will begin on Saturday, February 6, at the Sunday School hour, 9:45 a.m.

It happened last week at Bailey's—a good many people do not realize that Bailey's has a complete maternity shop-within-a-shop. Last week we received some nice styles in maternity dresses at $6.95 and $9.85. Jackets, slacks, skirts—the people who designed these are really trying to make you comfortable and as nice looking as possible in those next few months when you are in another world of thought. Along with the dresses, we have bras, slips, panties, girdles, all at prices you can afford. Also, white dacron, maternity uniforms just came in at $14.95.

We have just received from a famous manufacturer, dresses in early spring and summer styles which are selling in New York right now at $29.95. They are Fruit Prints—one of the newest things around and are $14.95 and $16.95. We consider them a good buy and hope you will come in to look them over.

We are closing out all our $12.95 jumpers at $6.95. These jumpers are all the better grade. Stop in and see for yourself. That's all for now.

the gentle breath-like touch required for Impressionistic music.

Ravel's fantastic Searbo was performed brilliantly, although the surging runs in the left hand were so passionately produced that sometimes they blurred the phrases in the right hand. This slight indiscretion occurred occasionally in Debussy's Reflets Dans L'eau, which as an encore was played quite beautifully.

Finally, Mr. Masselos gave an admirable reading of Ive's First Piano Sonata in five movements, composed from 1902 to 1909. The Sonata is an unusual mixture of originality and banality, early jazz and Impressionistic - Romanticism, conventional harmony and jarring polychordality, truly profound musical expression and trivialities, the combination of which is at times exciting and at other times boring.

The length and form of the work is not balanced, and though some people were wondering whether or not the composer was, it was certainly well worth hearing. Ives is a rarely performed American composer who has something to say though he does not express himself well.

Mr. Masselos is a fine pianist. We look forward to hearing more from him in the future.

McCARTER THEATRE

Inge Play Booked. McCarter's management made news during the Marian Anderson concert Monday night with the announcement that it will present "Bus Stop," the new play by William Inge, author of the Pulitzer prize-winning "Picnic." Four performances are scheduled: Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 10, 11 and 12, with a matinee Saturday.

Kim Stanley, seen on Broadway in "Picnic," has the lead in Mr. Inge's latest play. She will be remembered for her outstanding ability in last fall's "Traveling Lady," otherwise ill-starred but memorable for her fine acting.

Anthony Ross, Elaine Stritch and Jerome Courtland are other featured members of the cast. The producers are Robert Whitehead and Roger L. Stevens, who currently have "The Flowering Peach" on Broadway and last year presented "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" and T. S. Eliot's "The Confidential Clerk."

"Bus Stop" will open in Wilmington before coming here on its way to New York. For other details and ticket information, see the advertisement on Page 20.

Yma Sumac Coming. The remarkably-voiced Yma Sumac, who has set records of sorts for octave range and successful press agentry, will appear here for a single performance at the McCarter on Monday, February 7.

The production includes Miss Sumac's company of Incan dancers and musicians, as well as authentic Incan costumes and jewelry. Mail orders for tickets are now being filled, and tickets may also be obtained through the University Store (tel. 3333) and Bamberger's Service Desk (tel. 5300).

Cheerful Evening. "The Tender Trap" earned laughter from most everyone (in the slightly limited audience) at Friday's opening of its road tour. It was quite a "pro job" of comedy, with the cast having had only ten days of rehearsal with the principals.

The vein of the play has been characterized as wistful and amused preoccupation with unrestrained romantic opportunities in its many previous incarnations. Still, "The Tender Trap" had a lot of funny lines, most of them clean, for a change.

The plight of a New York bachelor with pretty girls flocking about him is hardly taxing fare, which is just as well since the comedy wouldn't hold up under a minute of critical examination. There were just a lot of laughs, well-delivered by a strong cast.

Russell Nype, a first-rate comedian, didn't particularly look the part of the bachelor, but it didn't make much difference. Much of the casting seemed a trifle this way, but the performers were still sharp.

Kent Smith and K. T. Stevens were both highly competent, while Joey Faye broke up the show with his third-act appearance as a "crazy" trombonist. The minor roles were filled pleasantly enough by Michaele Myers, Marrian Walters and Robert McBride.

Music in Princeton

PRINCETON SYMPHONY

The Princeton Symphony Orchestra under Nicholas Harsanyi will give its winter concert this coming Tuesday evening at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre. Tickets are still available and may be obtained at the University Store (tel. 3333) and at the box office Tuesday evening.

Mathilde McKinney will be heard as soloist in Beethoven's great Piano Concerto in G major, No. 4. Mrs. McKinney, known to the Princeton community as both pianist and composer, was for six years pianist of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra under Fritz Reiner.

A graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, she studied for four years at the Juilliard School of Music. After coming to Princeton to live, she taught piano at the New Jersey College for Women. A number of her compositions have had their first performances here by local musicians and musical groups.

Tuesday's concert will open with Haydn's Symphony No. 82 in C major. An intermezzo by Zoltan Kodaly from his Hari Janos Suite will close the varied program. Mr. Kodaly's work is considered more national and immediately musical than that of his fellow Hungarian composer and contemporary, Bela Bartok.

Also on the program is a Concerto Grosso for violin, two horns, piano and orchestra written two years ago by Warren Martin, head of the graduate department at the Westminster Choir College. The work will have its first performance here.

Mr. Martin has been a student

SOLOIST: Mathilde McKinney will appear Tuesday as piano soloist with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra. She is a resident of The Great Road.

of Roy Harris in composition, of Dr. Carl Weinrich in organ, and of Paul Boepple in musicology. His viola sonata was recently given its first performance at Michigan State College and his American Suite for solo piano and chorus is on the current touring program of the Westminster Choir.

STATE MUSEUM CONCERT

Three Princeton performers will present an instrumental concert this Sunday at 4 in the main hall of the New Jersey State Museum in Trenton. The concert, open to the public, will be given by Rayna Klatzin Barroll, piano; George Jones, clarinet, and Lewis Lockwood, cello.

Sunday's program will include 12 variations on a theme from Handel's "Judas Maccabaeus" by Beethoven; and "Sonata in F Minor, Opus 120, No. 1 for Clarinet and Piano" by Brahms, performed by Mr. Jones and Mrs. Barroll; "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor" by Bach; three short works by Debussy, and "Scherzo-Valse" by Chabrier, performed by Mrs. Barroll. The program will conclude with "Trio in A Minor, Opus 114 for Piano, Clarient and Cello" by Brahms, performed by Mrs. Barroll, Mr. Jones and Mr. Lockwood.

Mrs. Barroll has studied at Radcliffe College and at the New England Conservatory of Music with Miklos Schwalb. She has also received instruction from Robert and Gaby Casadesus, Miss Ruth McLinn and Miss Emmanuelina Pizzuto, all of Princeton. Her concerts have been presented throughout the East.

Mr. Jones received his bachelor's and master's degrees at the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester. He has been active in orchestra work in that city and is currently an instructor in music at the New Jersey College for Women in New Brunswick.

Mr. Lockwood completed his undergraduate work at Queens College, New York. He received his master's degree at Princeton and is at present working toward his Ph.D here.

He has studied cello with Albin Antosch and Lucien Laporte and has performed both solo and with chamber music groups in New York and Princeton. Last year he reviewed a number of concerts at McCarter for Town Topics.

Sports in Princeton

Action Resumed. Princeton's winter sports teams return to action during the coming week after a fortnight's blackout during term-end examinations. The only contest this Saturday will see the hockey team entertain American International College of Springfield, Mass., in Baker Rink.

Game time is 8 o'clock. The only Saturday night hockey contest of the season is so scheduled because academic regulations prohibit athletic activity until the exam period ends that afternoon.

The first month of Ivy League action in the sport will end with Princeton in first place, an intriguing achievement on the Tigers' part. Dartmouth assured this situation last weekend by trimming Yale in surprising fashion at New Haven after having lost to Princeton and Harvard on its own ice. The Indians took home a 5-3 verdict to create these standings:

PRINCETON	2	0	0	4
Harvard	1	0	1	3
Yale	1	1	0	2
Dartmouth	1	2	0	2
Brown	0	2	1	1

Harvard remains the favorite, despite its tie with Brown, which in turn has lost to Princeton and Yale! The Crimson has a powerful attack, paced by Bill Cleary and Scott Cooledge, and figures to repete as top dog. Of the others, the Tigers have currently given the most consistent performance, with the toughest battling still to come.

Following Saturday night's game here, the team goes to Providence for a return engagement with Brown on Saturday, February 5. Yale the following weekend and Harvard on the 19th are the next league games set for Baker Rink.

Quintet Faces Rutgers. Rutgers' weak basketball team will come to Dillon Gym next Wednesday night to open the second half of Princeton's season. The Scarlet has won only two of more than a dozen contests, and for a long time was Princeton's only victim. The Tigers prevailed at New Brunswick in early December, 92 to 70, then dropping six in a row before they finally turned back Dartmouth and Harvard.

A trip to Hanover next Saturday for a return game with the Indians will launch the climactic portion of the league season. The Green remains an in-and-out quintet, having upset Penn by two points at Hanover, only to lose there to oft-beaten Yale in double overtime.

It's a four team race now, with Cornell and Penn leading the fray, Columbia and Princeton still in pursuit. Dartmouth, Brown, Yale and Harvard trail by a sufficient margin to eliminate them all but mathematically before the season is half gone.

Princeton figures to stand pat on its starting five, which consists of Captain Bud Haabestad, John Easton, Dick Batt, John DeVoe and Don Davidson. Hopes are that last year's second-half drive will be repeated, but it will take some doing for a team with a 3-7 record (Princeton) to catch an outfit with a 12-2 mark (Pennsylvania.) Cornell, incidentally, tied with the Quakers at 3-1 in league play is no better than 7-7 overall.

Quiet Week. Other sports activity in Princeton during the coming week will be limited to a swimming meet against Temple in Dillon Pool. It's scheduled for 8 on Wednesday night.

The weekend of February 5 is relatively quiet, offering wrestling against Brown at 2 and swimming against Columbia at 4. Thereafter, however, Saturdays are well filled with action through the first week in March. That concludes the relatively brief winter sports season, in which teams seeking to reach a peak are plagued successively by the interruptions of Christmas vacation, term-end exams and the annual club calling.

PHS Takes Two. Victories over Ewing Township and Bordentown Military last week raised Princeton High School's basketball record to 5-3 for the season. The Little Tigers will travel to South River for a tough game this Friday night and will be at Somerville next Tuesday. A game at home this week against Bound Brook preceded these encounters.

Dick Wood hit for 30 points to set a personal record and help the Blue and White trim B.M.I., 76-65. Marv Trotman chipped in with 25, as PHS ran in front all the way.

It was 26-13 for Coach Tony Borzick's quintet after one period and 42-21 at the half. The PHS jayvees also triumphed, 54-51, paced by Ray Cevera with 19 points and Dick Borger with 15.

Trotman collected 32 points earlier in the week as the Little Tigers whipped Ewing Township, 76-69. He is averaging just under 30 points a game and has topped that mark four times this season.

Princeton High held a slim 28-26 margin at the intermission against Ewing but took charge when play resumed. Scoring 27 points in the third quarter while holding the losers to 17, the Blue and White coasted home. The PHS jayvees won another close one, staving off a rally by the Ewing reserves to win, 52-50. Cevera was again high with 15 points.

Hun Is 1-5. Hun School is finding the basketball season somewhat rugged, dropping five of its first six games. A home contest with Morristown and a trip to B.M.I. this week preceded the trip set for next Tuesday to Tower Hill School in Wilmington, Del.

The Red and Black won its first game of the season last week, trimming Stevens Academy, 50 to 39. Jim Lavan with 22 and Milt Einzig with 20 set the pace. Hun holding a 21-7 margin at halftime and adding to its advantage with a six-point bulge in the final period.

The Johnny Huns were tied with Delkarton last Saturday with two minutes to go but the visitors had the stronger attack and won, 48-42. Einzig was good for another 20 points and Lavan collected ten in the losing cause.

Tiger to Hanover?

Among the candidates being mentioned for the football coaching job at Dartmouth is Ben Martin, a fine back on the Princeton football team a dozen years ago. A member of the Class of 1944, Martin played on the '42 eleven and then transferred to the Naval Academy.

He's there today as a backfield coach under Eddie Erdalatz, but may be at Hanover before next fall. The vacancy has existed since Tuss McLaughry resigned at the end of the last season.

PRINCETON TELEVISION

The "Princeton '55" television series resumes this Sunday (at 3, WRCA-TV, Channel 4) with "Shaping Things, and Vice-Versa", given by Professor Joseph Brown, of the school of architecture and instructor in sculpting for the creative arts program.

Professor Brown, known also as Princeton's boxing instructor, will handle clay to show the communicative possibilities of sculptural form. He will then apply sculptural forms in an effort to meet a social problem, showing children using his newly-produced playground equipment.

The series, interrupted for a special broadcast by the NBC symphony, resumes at its regular time, but a change has been planned for Sunday, February 13, and thereafter. The remaining eight shows in the series will be given at 1 p.m. on Sundays.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Vera Cruz (Jan. 27-Feb. 1) puts the redoubtable Gary Cooper and Burt Lancaster together for an action film made mostly along Western lines. With excellent Mexican settings (color, and for this one, SuperScope), the two stars get wrapped up with revolutionaries, gold, Denise Darcel and Sarita Montiel. Cesar Romero gets into the act, too.

Prince of Players (Feb. 2-5) offers a magnificent performance by Richard Burton as Edwin Booth, this country's first great actor. It is a film biography, and therefore slow paced, but an exceptional technical production, plus a marvelous era, career and atmosphere should overcome this defect so far as most viewers are concerned.

There are many theatrical scenes, chiefly Shakespearian, in which Burton is outstanding. Raymond Massey as Booth's mad actor-father, John Derek as John Wilkes Booth, Maggie McNamara and Eva Le Gallienne head a large supporting cast.

THE GARDEN

Six Bridges to Cross (Jan. 27-29) is a film treatment of the $2,500,000 Brinks armored car robbery in Boston of a few years ago. A good semi-documentary filming of the details of the crime is a considerable asset. Tony Curtis plays the gang leader in a fashion designed to win audience sympathy for the robbers instead of the cops. Even though the actual robbery is still unsolved, Curtis gets shot in the end to satisfy the motion picture code.

The Glen Miller Story (Jan. 31-Feb. 1), one of the larger successes of 1954, returns for another engagement here. James Stewart, June Allyson, George Tobias and Henry Morgan combine their efforts in an entertaining film, sprinkled liberally with the musical numbers associated with the late Glen Miller.

The Little Kidnappers (Feb. 2-5) is a winning British import in which a strict grandfather in rural Nova Scotia is warmed by two small grandchildren. Vincent Winter and Jon Whitley are captivating as the youngsters. Something of a gem.

CHILDREN'S SERIES

The Children's World Theatre returns here on Wednesday to offer "The Little Red Shoes" as the second show in the Children's Entertainment Series sponsored by the Borough Elementary Schools PTA. The curtain at the McCarter will be at 3:30.

The first production of the series, "Sinbad, the Sailor," was a near sellout. Tickets (at $1.35, 85c, 40c) for the coming program may be obtained by calling 2090-J or writing to Children's Entertainments, 80 Murray Place. The McCarter box office will open at 1 p.m. on Wednesday.

"The Little Red Shoes" is a new play based on the fairy tale by Hans Christian Anderson. It tells the story of Karen, a young girl who is given a pair of magic red dancing shoes. A sly magician, a friendly bear and an absent-minded grandmother are included among the characters.

The settings and costuming are designed for Denmark of 100 years ago. The play will be performed by professional adult actors, while the entire production is under the supervision of Monte Meachum, president and managing director of the Children's World Theatre.

a grind wheel out of it, if you wish. There is also an abrasive wheel, a paint mixer that looks like a one-handed egg beater, a wire brush and a wall attachment for storage. The paint mixer is a new one—instead of just a shaft, you get this twirling button on the end. The kit comes in a heavy metal case with an envelope of 13 chrome vanadium steel bits.

Another new tool is the Junior Welder Soldering Gun for $7.50, which is a very low price in the soldering gun trade. It heats up almost instantaneously when it's plugged in, and is excellent for work with home radios and music systems.

Win, Place and Show. Our knowledge of horses is not quite all it might be, but we were impressed nevertheless with the show of race-track oils now at The Little Gallery, 39 Palmer Square West, until February 7. The artist is Lee Townsend of Hunterdon County, New Jersey, a man who has lived and sketched around tracks for 35 years or more, an artist who can catch a horse with greater accuracy than a photographer, almost, and surely with greater feeling.

All these oils—which are for sale—show race-track life in one aspect or another. A long narrow composition suits the grandstand scene with its hundreds of anonymous faces; a dark, serene mood lies over the mares and colts in the moonlight; another low-key mood shows us a stable after dusk. Mr. Townsend has made studies of horses jumping, pacing, standing quietly in stall, and he has caught the pensive, rather weary look of a bush jockey—perhaps, to a non-horseman, the most expressive painting in the show.

Anyone with a fondness for horses will be richly rewarded by Lee Townsend's work. Anyone else will find in his paintings a warm and earthy feeling for this kind of American life.

All A-Shore. Max Shore's Classics and the company he left behind — Ship 'n' Shore — are both showing new spring blouses at Harris' Department Store, 32 Witherspoon, and you'll be hard put to decide which Shore to choose. Ship 'n' Shore has, for $2.98, a three-quarter sleeve model with narrow round collar.

Comes in pink, yellow, blue and white. Mac sends out a similar blouse with short sleeves, in blue or white, with a little pointed collar and some interesting details down the front.

Skirts are in, too. We found a linen-weave rayon in charcoal with white stitching down its front. It comes in a light brown called luggage, too, and the price is $3.95.

Another rayon linen for the same price, is navy blue with a chalk white trim. Washable French flannel is pink or blue, very light in weight for spring. A narrow belt holds in its two small box pleats.

Everglaze has some new cotton dresses that are appealing for warm days. One has large squares in pale blue or pink with small, old-fashioned nosegays in their centers, rather like little old gardens. Shells and sequins mark the small collar and self buttons close the front. The price is $5.95.

At the same price, a pincheck gingham (pink or blue) has white medallions at its round neck and around the hip-flaring skirt. No sleeves on this one at all.

In the size range that goes from 18½ to 20½, we found a pongee made of acetate and cotton, with pin stripes of aqua, green and black. Its style is short-sleeved shirtwaist, and its price is $5.95.

House dresses for $2.98 start with size 12 and go to size 52, or 14½ to 32½ in the half-size department. Some of these dresses are designed with shirtwaist cut, others are collarless, some have wide white collars. All of them are prints.

We liked a grey and yellow (grey and pink) and a white one with tiny blue flowers on its surface. One light grey dress has a widely-spaced design of orchid-colored flowers. A house dress that even keeps time for you has clocks in pink or purple on a grey background. What, no timer?

Good Plumbing and Heating Means Good Health

AARON & CO.

Suggests That Now Is the Time to Modernize—During the Winter "Off" Season When the Trade Can Work Inside.

HERE ARE FIVE WAYS FOR PUBLIC PLACES TO PROVIDE BETTER SANITATION and GREATER COMFORT FOR THEIR CUSTOMERS!

1. Metering self-closing faucets: Economical, because they stop running after say one minute; convenient because both hands are free when washing

2. Self-raising closet seats: Most sanitary seat for men's lavatories in public places.

3. Recessed radiators or baseray in cast-iron BURNHAM: Eliminate space-taking, dust collecting, unsightly radiators. Provide radiant heat, with warm floors and ceilings.

4. Modern KOHLER lavatories and closets: A shabby or dirty rest room is universally taken to bespeak a shabby, dirty place of business.

5. A New sanitary device for Milady: Almost unknown to the public because of a misplaced sense of modesty, this new urinal fixture, especially designed for women, revolutionizes protection for them. Installed in a partition, full privacy is retained.

To owners of public places: These improvments will pay for themselves many times over in the added regard the public will have for your place of business.

To the public: Next time you suffer inconvenience in a public place, why not suggest to the proprietor that he have these improvements installed by his plumbing contractor, in the interests of better sanitation and more comfort for his clientele.
